

MotiveWave™ 2.3 Released with Simulated Paper Trading Accounts

TORONTO, ON – December 19, 2012 – MotiveWave Software, a leading provider of charting, analysis and trading software, announced today the release of Version 2.3 of its MotiveWave charting and trading platform, which now includes simulated paper trading accounts.

Highlights of the latest features to be added into MotiveWave 2.3 are:

- Simulated Account – This release includes the ability to have a simulated or paper trading account added to an existing broker workspace or a data service workspace for practicing trading without risking real money.
- Component Properties – Properties Dialogs have been created for all components (for example, trend lines, channels, commentary, etc.) for easy formatting/editing of the component.
- Fibonacci Enhancements – Negative values for Fibonacci numbers can now be used/added for ratio components.
- New Brokers – 2 new brokers have been added, as well as enhancements to some of our existing brokers.
- New Studies – 13 new built-in studies have been added, as well as enhancements to existing studies. MotiveWave now has over 260 studies and 30 strategies built right in. Plus there is still the option for creating custom studies and strategies through the MotiveWave SDK.

MotiveWave is available for Windows and Mac OS X. MotiveWave can be used to trade any securities that your broker or data service supports. These may include stocks, futures, options, equities and forex.
